

General Terms of Business of loadbee GmbH (GTBs) for Manufacturers

1. About loadbee

loadbee GmbH (referred to below as „loadbee“) is a provider of standard software for the service-based distribution of product information (content syndication). For this purpose, loadbee has developed a software application (referred to below as the „loadbee platform“) for managing and publishing product data. Manufacturers can create digital product profiles that contain product and brand information for their products. This product information can be displayed over the Internet and thus exchanged with retailers, online service providers and end customers (collectively referred to hereinafter as „users“).

2. Scope, Contract Formation, Changes to the GTBs

- (1) These general terms of business (referred to below as the „GTBs“) regulate how a manufacturer is to use the loadbee platform.
- (2) loadbee shall not recognize any of the manufacturer's conditions that contradict or differ from these GTBs unless loadbee has given explicit, written agreement to their validity.
- (3) The Order Sheet for use of the loadbee platform, which is submitted to the manufacturer before the conclusion of the contract, does not constitute a legally binding offer; instead, it constitutes a non-binding quotation. By submitting its order, the manufacturer is providing a legally binding offer for the use of the loadbee platform. loadbee may accept this quote by submitting the order confirmation (= contract acceptance) within 10 business days.
- (4) Insofar as the Order Sheet deviates from the provisions of these GTBs, the deviating provisions shall precede the provisions from these GTBs.
- (5) If these GTBs are modified or supplemented, loadbee will inform the manufacturer, in writing, at least six weeks before the time at which these modifications or additions are to come into effect. If the manufacturer fails to notify loadbee of their objection to a modification within two weeks of receiving written notification of the modification, this modification will be considered part of the contract. Every time loadbee announces a modification, it will inform the manufacturer of the relevant deadline and the legal consequences of failing to exercise their option to object.

3. loadbee Platform

- (1) The manufacturer can access the loadbee platform via the Internet with a protected account by means of an Application Service Provider (ASP), and can create and manage product profiles for its products. loadbee provides various standard layouts for this purpose. The router output port in the loadbee computing center is the point at which the loadbee platform is accessed and data is transferred. When these contractual services are provided, the loadbee software involved remains on the loadbee server. With regard to the data entered by the manufacturer, loadbee operates as a host provider as defined in § 10 of the German Telemedia Act.
- (2) loadbee will publish the product profiles over the Internet that were supplied by the manufacturers for the contractually agreed purposes so that users can access these product profiles. Users are not permitted to make any content changes to the product profiles.

Retailers that have integrated the product profiles into their online stores may, however, hide specific content of the product profiles as appropriate. If a particular manufacturer has selected retailers that have integrated the product profiles into their online stores, these retailers may also be provided with the data stored in the product profiles in an editable form, so that they can process and use it as required (Download Center). Any legal relationships regarding the exchange or publication of data, in particular any issues about the right to use this data, are exclusively to be settled between the manufacturer and user. loadbee does not take responsibility for ensuring that users use this data exclusively as intended, in accordance with the rights granted them by manufacturers.

- (3) The payment that is to be submitted to loadbee by the manufacturer for the use of the loadbee platform is defined in the Order Sheet and is determined in accordance with the number of times the product profiles are loaded (= number of syndications), in addition to any one-time costs or added features incurring additional costs. The manufacturer may create product profiles on the loadbee platform for an unlimited number of products and keep them available in an unlimited number of languages. In addition, and provided that a sufficient number of syndications have been recorded, the product profiles are, as a rule, syndicated to all retailers connected to the loadbee platform. However, the manufacturer has the option to exclude individual retailers from syndication.
- (4) The loadbee platform has the following core functions: creation/editing of product profiles, distribution of product profiles, the Download Center, reporting. loadbee is entitled to modify and upgrade these core functionalities. loadbee is also entitled to introduce additional functionalities, and to limit or change existing functionalities. If any changes to the loadbee platform are made, which result in a change to functionality, or which modify previous working processes for the manufacturer, loadbee undertakes to inform the manufacturer, in writing, at least six weeks in advance of the changes coming into effect. If the manufacturer fails to notify loadbee of their objection to a modification within two weeks of receiving written notification of the modification, this modification will be considered part of the contract. Every time loadbee announces a modification, it will inform the manufacturer of the relevant deadline and the legal consequences of failing to exercise their option to object.
- (5) At the start of the contract, loadbee will provide the manufacturer with printable electronic documentation about the loadbee platform. If the loadbee platform is updated in accordance with Para. (4), the documentation will be modified accordingly and sent out to the manufacturer again in printable electronic form.
- (6) Product profiles must all be marked with „powered by loadbee“ or a similar credit to loadbee. If the manufacturer wishes to remove this credit, either temporarily or permanently, a supplementary agreement to this effect must be concluded between loadbee and the manufacturer for this chargeable service.

4. Syndications

The syndications entered in the Order Sheet by the manufacturer are listed by brand. The syndication packages are each valid per contract year, beginning with the start date of the contract. Any unused syndications are forfeited at the end of the contract year. A transfer of syndications to other brands is not possible. After depleting the syndications booked for a brand within the current contract year, the product profiles will no longer be syndicated for the remainder of the contract year for the brand in question. The manufacturer has the option to reorder syndication packages for the booked brands.

5. Support

- (1) loadbee also provides the manufacturer with the following optional, chargeable support levels for using the loadbee platform account:
 - Basic: Support via e-mail, languages: German, English; no guaranteed response or qualified answer time.
 - Silver: Support via e-mail, languages: German, English; response time: 24 hours; no guaranteed qualified answer time; for up to 15 requests per month, priority processing of tickets over basic support inquiries
 - Gold: Support via e-mail, languages: German, English; response time: 12 hours; Qualified answer time: 24 hours; telephone call-back option; online remote maintenance (if necessary); priority processing of tickets over basic and Silver support inquiries for up to 30 requests per month.
- (2) For all support requests, please send an e-mail to support@loadbee.com. The response time is the time taken to send an e-mail to the manufacturer acknowledging receipt of the support request. The Qualified Answer Time is the time taken to notify the manufacturer regarding possible causes and solutions to the problem, calculated from the point when loadbee receives the support request. With the telephone callback option, the manufacturer has the option to request a callback by sending an e-mail to support@loadbee.com. The callback will usually take place within 8 hours, calculated from the point when loadbee receives the callback request.
- (3) The response times listed in Para. (1) and (2) apply exclusively during loadbee service times. These are from Monday to Friday between 09:00 a.m. and 06:00 p.m. CET/CEST.
- (4) In the event of any defects in the loadbee platform, all rights of the manufacturer remain unaffected.

6. Duties of the Manufacturer

- (1) Before the loadbee platform can be made available in the manufacturer's operating environment, the manufacturer must make the following arrangements, at its own cost:
 - loadbee does not provide the manufacturer with any additional software or hardware other than the loadbee platform. The manufacturer must have a suitable computer system and functioning access to the Internet and a web browser which enable it to set up the data connection to the loadbee computing center. loadbee assumes no liability for (i) hardware, software, or other devices used by the manufacturer in connection with the loadbee platform, or (ii) interruptions, outages, errors, or disruptions of phone, mobile communications, or data networks necessary for accessing the loadbee platform. The manufacturer shall bear any accrued costs for phone, mobile communications and data networks related to the use of the loadbee platform.
 - For the purpose of allocating login data, the manufacturer must select designated employees who are responsible for using the loadbee platform. The manufacturer shall agree to inform loadbee of any organizational changes, staff changes or similar changes to their workforce.
- (2) The manufacturer shall agree to use all the functions of the loadbee platform exclusively as defined in the contract, and for its own purposes, and not to make these functions accessible to any third party.
